BIOGRAPHY

CEO LeaderLike You! and RC Komm SA

May, 2002-present    Worldwide

Robert is a communications and leadership coach/trainer working across a variety of industries and international non-governmental organizations. He firmly believes that at the forefront of any organization, the communication skills of executives are crucial to their success.

He helps individuals and teams to:

- Positively influence customers, colleagues and subordinates to get the outcomes desired with everyone feeling valued and respected
- Present their ideas in a more compelling, confident manner
- Handle difficult or sensitive topics, (customer meetings, financial presentations, major speeches, team interactions) while reducing nervousness and increasing overall effectiveness
- Develop leadership skills and leadership presence when negotiating with different cultures and personalities

This is a niche of coaching where people develop and maximize their executive presence; the art of positive influence; as well as the ability to communicate confidence and concern for others.

TEAMWORK

Since great teamwork is not always a given, Robert works with teams to help them understand how they work as a unit, how personality preferences may influence actions and behaviors. He helps teams move from conflict to productive conflict resolution using a language of cooperation, requests and understanding. He combines NonViolent Communication and the tenants of Neuro Linguistic Programming into many of his programs.

PROGRAMMES

All programs are tailored to client needs. Some of the program headers Robert coaches and trains are: Presentation and Impact Skills; Communication for Positive Impact; Leadership skills for “Leaders of Others” and “Leaders of Leaders” including Accelerated Integration for New Leaders; Emotional Awareness; IFIND Challenging Conversations.
